WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:

STEVE ROGERS was a 98-pound weakling who desperately wanted to join the US army and combat the growing Nazi menace. But Steve was judged unfit for military service. Steve had just about given up hope when he was asked to participate in a top secret government experiment called PROJECT: REBIRTH.

The experiment was a success—Rogers became the first Super-Soldier, with his strength greatly increased. Unfortunately, the scientist who created the super-soldier serum was killed—the victim of a Nazi infiltrator. This meant that Steve would be the first—and last—super-soldier, as well as a pivotal target for the Nazis! Now that Steve actually had the power to do some good, he was eager to put his new-found strength to use.

But the army wanted Steve to remain in hiding, until they could determine the identity of the Nazi spy. Steve was considered too valuable to risk in battle just yet. So he was sent undercover, posing as a bumbling private at Camp Lehigh, where he was to remain in hiding until further notice.

When we last saw Steve, he had discovered smugglers on his base. He fashioned himself a makeshift disguise, and prepared to stop them on his own. Now, as we begin this chapter, Steve is about to put his new abilities to the test. . .
